LAST night's performance at the Grand was a rotten affair, to which the audience contributed about fifty per cent. of the vulgarity. Of course, it was a special occasion, the day having been a holiday and the town very much crowded by a variety of Brazilians, of which one particular specie came here bent on raising all manner of things. This was the bunch that mingled with a lot of otherwise respectable young and old natives of the town and crowded the Grand Theatre to see "The Rosebud Beauties." No one seriously expected to see a good show. Everybody there was celebrating. With all it was, nevertheless, a good natured crowd, which kept up an incessant howl of disapproval of everything attempted by the performers. Some of the advertised features of the show were cut, but it made little difference to the spectators who were having a lot of fun among themselves.

In the company were a number of lab show faces familiar to those who used to be Colonial patrons.

The Hippodrome Players are to be seen to mighty splendid advantage in the play introduced yesterday and which will hold the boards for the balance of the week. It is a beautiful southern drama entitled "The Man That Nobody Wanted." Mr. King, who plays the part of a hero, gives one a clear vision of this already popular young actor's ability. His voice and his splendid physique are contributing elements that have won for him the approval of Hipp patrons. Miss McKinley is cast in the part of a sweet southern miss who falls in love with Jack Rose, the man nobody wanted. When the love making is at the high point and she has already become engaged a cloud is cast over the parentage of her lover. Around this revolves many heart gripping episodes. Miss LaBey plays the part of a beautiful octopus in a most splendid manner. Miss Wyld, who is seen here for the first time in a dramatic role, gives an excellent account of her histrionic ability, as does also Miss Whitney. Mr. Saffrin is the villain and he is just the high-class article we expected after seeing his work in the previous bill. Rosebraugh, whose comedy was so delightful in "The Fortune Hunter," also has a heavy part and shows great versatility. Mr. Karloff appears in his usual good form.

Tonight's after show at the Hippodrome will be "the drug store." It has been voted by an overwhelming number as a better feature than the country store. All the prizes given are standard quality, fresh and in a wonderful variety.

Billie Burke is screened at the Dixie today in the fifteenth chapter of Gloria's Romance.

Edythe Chapman, the talented Lasky actress, who is appearing with Mae Murray, in her forthcoming Paramount picture, "The Flow Girl," used, in an introduction scene the other day, the baby gown in which she herself was christened. It is a beautiful silk, hand-embroidered affair that has been cherished by the Chapman family ever since it was first used.

OLD STAGER.

Records Early American History.
Mrs. W. F. Otis of Danby Four Corners, Vt., is the possessor of a copy of the Newport, R. I. Mercury, dated February 12, 1770, published by Solomon Southwick. The paper contains an account of "an assembly of people" in Faneuil hall, Boston, which adopted vigorous resolutions against William Jackson, Theophilus Lillie and Nathaniel Rogers for refusing to deliver up certain packages of tea "remaining unsold by them."

More Appropriate.

"The emblem of this hotel is an eagle," remarked a guest of the seashore hotel, as he glanced over the cashier's window. "Eagle!" snorted the man who had just paid his bill. "It ought to be a gull."

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY.

People who are overburdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, footprints become lighter, your work seems easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial. Martin's Drug Store, 325 Main street, can supply you.

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL

Christmas suggestions.

For your young man friend a nice set of buttons would be appropriate. All he'll have to do to have a new suit, would be to have a few yards of the good suit material fitted around the buttons. If he has a birthday around Xmas, send him a set of buttonholes.

Evening Chat

Alonso Jones believes that the Good Lord takes care of his sheep, even when the sheep is a black one. Alonso is a colored citizen of Water street who purchased a remarkable turkey. Either the Lord had a special eye out for Alonso and his dinner or else Alonso's turkey is a suicide.

Alonso bought his turkey, put it in a basket, tied a cloth over the basket and started for home. Down Bridge street he came tugging along with his lead, directly in front of two traveling men going to catch a train. True to the traveling man spirit the two decided they would have a little fun.

Slipping up cautiously behind Alonso they untied the string that held the cloth over the basket. Out jumped the gobble and started down he hill. Alonso saw the turkey going, looked in the basket and realized that it was his turkey, and started in pursuit. When the turkey realized that some one was after him he soared on his wings and headed straight for the opposite side of the river. Alonso sat down and almost shed tears for he thought he would never see his Thanksgiving dinner again. And there were the little Alonsos.

In the Alonso back yard George, ten year old son of Alonso's, was playing. Suddenly with a great fluttering a turkey sailed from across the river into the yard and ducked into the wood shed. George was resourceful and quickly closed the door.

Half an hour later when Alonso got home, his eyes were misty as he told his good wife of their loss. But their sadness was turned to real dandy thanksgiving when George retold of how the aerial pot pie had been cooped in the wood shed.

Vision and Headache.

A recent study of this subject has brought out evidence that people of one-eyed, monocular vision are not troubled with eye headache. Whether one eye be disabled or whether its use has simply been abandoned, either constantly or alternately, the fact that seeing is done wholly by one eye eliminates the struggle to make two unequal eyes work in perfect unison. Freed from the strain of that struggle, the subject finds that the reflex influence upon the cranial nerves is no longer a matter of pain.

Preserving Firefly's Light.

A method has been found of extracting and drying the light-producing organs of the firefly without impairing the power of the substance to phosphoresce, according to the Popular Science Monthly. When water containing oxygen is added to the powder, it gives the golden glow of the firefly's light.

Could Raise Money on Him.

A gorgeously-dressed foreign officer was walking down Whitehall the other day in full dress when he was met by two countrymen. Quite staggered at the gorgeous apparition clanking toward them, they riveted their eyes on the blazing gold, blue and crimson figure, and with a wondering gaze the one exclaimed to the other, with a sharp nudge in the ribs and a look of fun: "Begorra, wouldn't I like to pawn him!"

Killed Her Engine.

A three-year-old Columbus girl, who had been motoring frequently last summer with her father and mother, seems to have absorbed some of the talk she overheard. She was dragging a little chair across the floor at home, when it struck an obstruction, and her progress across the room was stopped. "Whoa," she exclaimed. "I've killed my engine."

THE LOST MESSENGER

This reel contains more hair raising stunts than any other of the Hazards of Helen. Helen rides a motorcycle, crashes through the railing of a bridge and drops to the tracks close beside a moving freight train; she also jumps from a "jack-knife" draw bridge sixty feet into the water below and swims to shore. P. S. Pembroke also jumps from a moving train into a river.

THE BORDER LINE

Nell Craig, the star in this picture has spent a small fortune in her wardrobe which is easily the prominent feature of the production. The plot is rather unusual and the story has a good ending. Edward Arnold takes the masculine role with good effect.

Kate Price and Babe Hardy are featured in this comedy reel.
